

ANCILLARY SUPPLIES & EQUIPMENT

IMPERIAL DELIVERS

Imperial actively meets the challenges that CROs and sponsors face every day when globally procuring and distributing ancillary supplies and equipment.

The Imperial Approach

We know clinical research studies demand careful control of many moving parts. With Imperial, you'll work with a dedicated project manager backed by our supply, equipment, and logistics experts.

ANALYZE

We apply four decades of protocol review expertise to determine exactly what you need.

RECOMMEND

We identify the right supplies and equipment, vetted to meet protocol requirements and regional regulations.

PROCURE

We procure the supplies and equipment you need from our partner network of international manufacturers and distributors.

SHIP

With 50,000 shipments to more than 100 countries annually, our logistics experts ensure on-time delivery and work to prevent unanticipated tariffs and customs delays.

TRACK

We track every item and stay on top of inventory, delivery confirmations, and expiration dates. You can, too, using our proprietary online customer portal that allows you to decide when and where to send your items.

MANAGE

The Imperial team has skillfully supported thousands of protocols, and we will confidently execute every step of your study so you don't have to.
