

ANCILLARY SUPPLIES & EQUIPMENT

IMPERIAL DELIVERS

Imperial actively meets the challenges that CROs and sponsors face every day when globally procuring and distributing ancillary supplies and equipment.

Clinical research studies demand careful control of many moving parts. With Imperial, you'll work with a dedicated project manager backed by our supply, equipment, and logistics experts.

THE IMPERIAL APPROACH

CONSULT

We apply four decades of clinical trial materials management expertise to properly understand your needs and expectations before developing solutions.

PROCURE

From new to used calibrated stock, we can get you the right equipment and supplies, on budget.

COMPLIANCE

We track and adapt to global regulatory requirements. GCP, GMP, and GDP level controls, quality oversight, chain of custody management, and transparency in everything we do.

SHIP

With 50,000 shipments to more than 100 countries annually, our logistics experts ensure on-time delivery and work to prevent unanticipated tariffs and customs delays.

TRACK

We track every item and stay on top of inventory, delivery confirmations, and expiration dates. Our proprietary online customer portal allows you to decide when and where to send your items.

MANAGE

The Imperial project management team provides a boutique style high-touch service experience. 360-degree oversight includes consultation, study planning, demand planning, service and disposition actioning, reporting, and more.
